

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

MARC H. FISHMAN,

Plaintiff,

-against-

CITY OF NEW ROCHELLE, et al.,

Defendants.

19-cv-0265 (NSR)

ORDER

NELSON S. ROMÁN, United States District Judge:

Plaintiff, proceeding pro se in this Section 1983 action against, inter alia, the City of New Rochelle, Westchester County, Police Commissioner Joseph F. Schaller and Detective W. Joseph (collectively referred to as Defendants), filed a motion for the appointment of pro bono counsel. (ECF No. 4.) For the following reasons, the motion is denied.

Unlike in criminal proceedings, the Court does not have the power to obligate attorneys to represent indigent pro se litigants in civil cases. See Mallard v. U.S. Dist. Court for the S. Dist. of Iowa, 490 U.S. 296, 308–09 (1989). Instead, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(1), the Court may, at its discretion, order that the Pro Se Office request an attorney to represent an indigent litigant by placing the matter on a list circulated to attorneys who are members of the Court’s pro bono panel. See Palacio v. City of New York, 489 F. Supp. 2d 335, 344 (S.D.N.Y. 2007).

The Second Circuit set forth the standards governing the appointment of counsel in pro se cases in Hendricks v. Coughlin, 114 F.3d 390, 392 (2d Cir. 1997), Cooper v. A. Sargenti Co., 877 F.2d 170, 172 (2d Cir. 1989), and Hodge v. Police Officers, 802 F.2d 58, 60–62 (2d Cir. 1986). These cases direct the district courts to “first determine whether the indigent’s position seems likely to be of substance,” Hodge, 802 F.2d at 61, and then, if this threshold is met, to consider “secondary criteria,” including the pro se litigant’s “ability to obtain representation independently, and his ability to handle the case without assistance in the light of the required factual investigation, the complexity of the legal issues, and the need for expertly conducted cross-examination to test veracity.” Cooper, 877 F.2d at 172; accord Hendricks, 114 F.3d at 392 (quoting Hodge, 802 F.2d at 61–62). “Even where the claim is not frivolous, counsel is often unwarranted where the indigent’s chances of success are extremely slim,” and the Court should determine whether the pro se litigant’s “position seems likely to be of substance,” or shows “some chance of success.” Hodge, 802 F.2d at 60-61.

Plaintiff’s instant request for pro bono counsel cannot be granted at such an early stage in the litigation. Plaintiff’s application for appointment of pro bono counsel demonstrates that this is his first request. This case was recently commenced. At this early stage in the proceedings, there is no indication that Plaintiff’s position shows a strong chance of success or that the legal issues in this case are particularly complex. Additionally, the Court cannot conclude that Plaintiff is unable to handle the case without assistance, although this conclusion may change as the action progresses.

Therefore, because the Court does not find any circumstances which warrant the appointment of pro bono counsel at this time, Plaintiff’s motion is DENIED without prejudice to renewal at a later stage in the proceedings. The Clerk of Court is respectfully directed to terminate the motion at ECF No. 4 and mail a copy of this Order to Plaintiff at his address as listed on ECF and to show proof of service.
